Operation Encompass – Procedures and Supporting Children

There is now free training available for all Leicestershire schools around Operation Encompass and support for children.

The training will be offered using a whole school approach to understand the effects of domestic abuse on children, the correct procedures following an Operation Encompass notification and creative ways to provide appropriate trauma informed support to children and young people.

The training will be delivered at schools and can be adapted to meet school requirements. We aim to reach a broad range of staff to help develop knowledge around trauma informed approaches.
